Taylor Made

Whatever the training you are looking for, Harmony.ie is able to design material to suit you. If you want help as an individual you might start by looking at the leaflets One2One and Style Profile as these indicate the kind of personal help that is available. In some circumstances we can also recommend personal trainers for individuals.

Teams often look for ways to build relationships and understanding and we have a variety of resources to meet this need.

We also offer churches a raft of training, seminar and conference material as indicated below

Mission related Resources

As well as Consultancy, which is covered in a separate leaflet, we offer training through:

Mind the Gap a resource developed by Agape.. This is a six evening course to help the church understand the context of mission and the steps needed to plan a strategy. It can be adapted to suit particular needs.

Healthy Churches, is based on the Healthy Churches Handbook. You may also wish to see the leaflet on this subject

Seminars. We are able to provide a one day, week-end or series of evening seminars on all aspects of mission and personal evangelism. For this to work effectively it is usually advisable for a person from Harmony.ie to meet with the leaders in order to provide suitable planning.

Getting away from it all

Harmony.ie can provide a day or week-end led retreat using broadly celtic material and styles. See our leaflet Contemplation

Christian Life Seminars

We can also provide speakers for Sunday services and church week-ends on all aspects of life as a Christian in the 21st Century

How much will it cost?

Harmony.ie is dependent on fees for all its costs, receiving no grants from external bodies. Our fees must, therefore, reflect the true cost of providing our services. Since the types of service we might provide are very varied in terms of duration and time needed for preparation, it is difficult to give exact costs. A list of fees is shown on our website as a rough guide to costs but you would be advised to discuss your requirements with us so that we might give a more accurate indication of costs.

What to do next?

You will find our contact details over leaf. All our leaflets mentioned are available for download from our website. A phone call or e-mail detailing your interests will be responded to as soon as possible. We are keen to help you any way we can.
